Strategies for today!

1) Make it easy to have a discussion

- Have ideas of what you see in your next opportunity
- Not sure, be able to articulate your strengths or what you would like to learn
- Update your resume and profiles
- Prepare for a conversation...What makes you better or different?

2) Make connections with a recruiter(s).

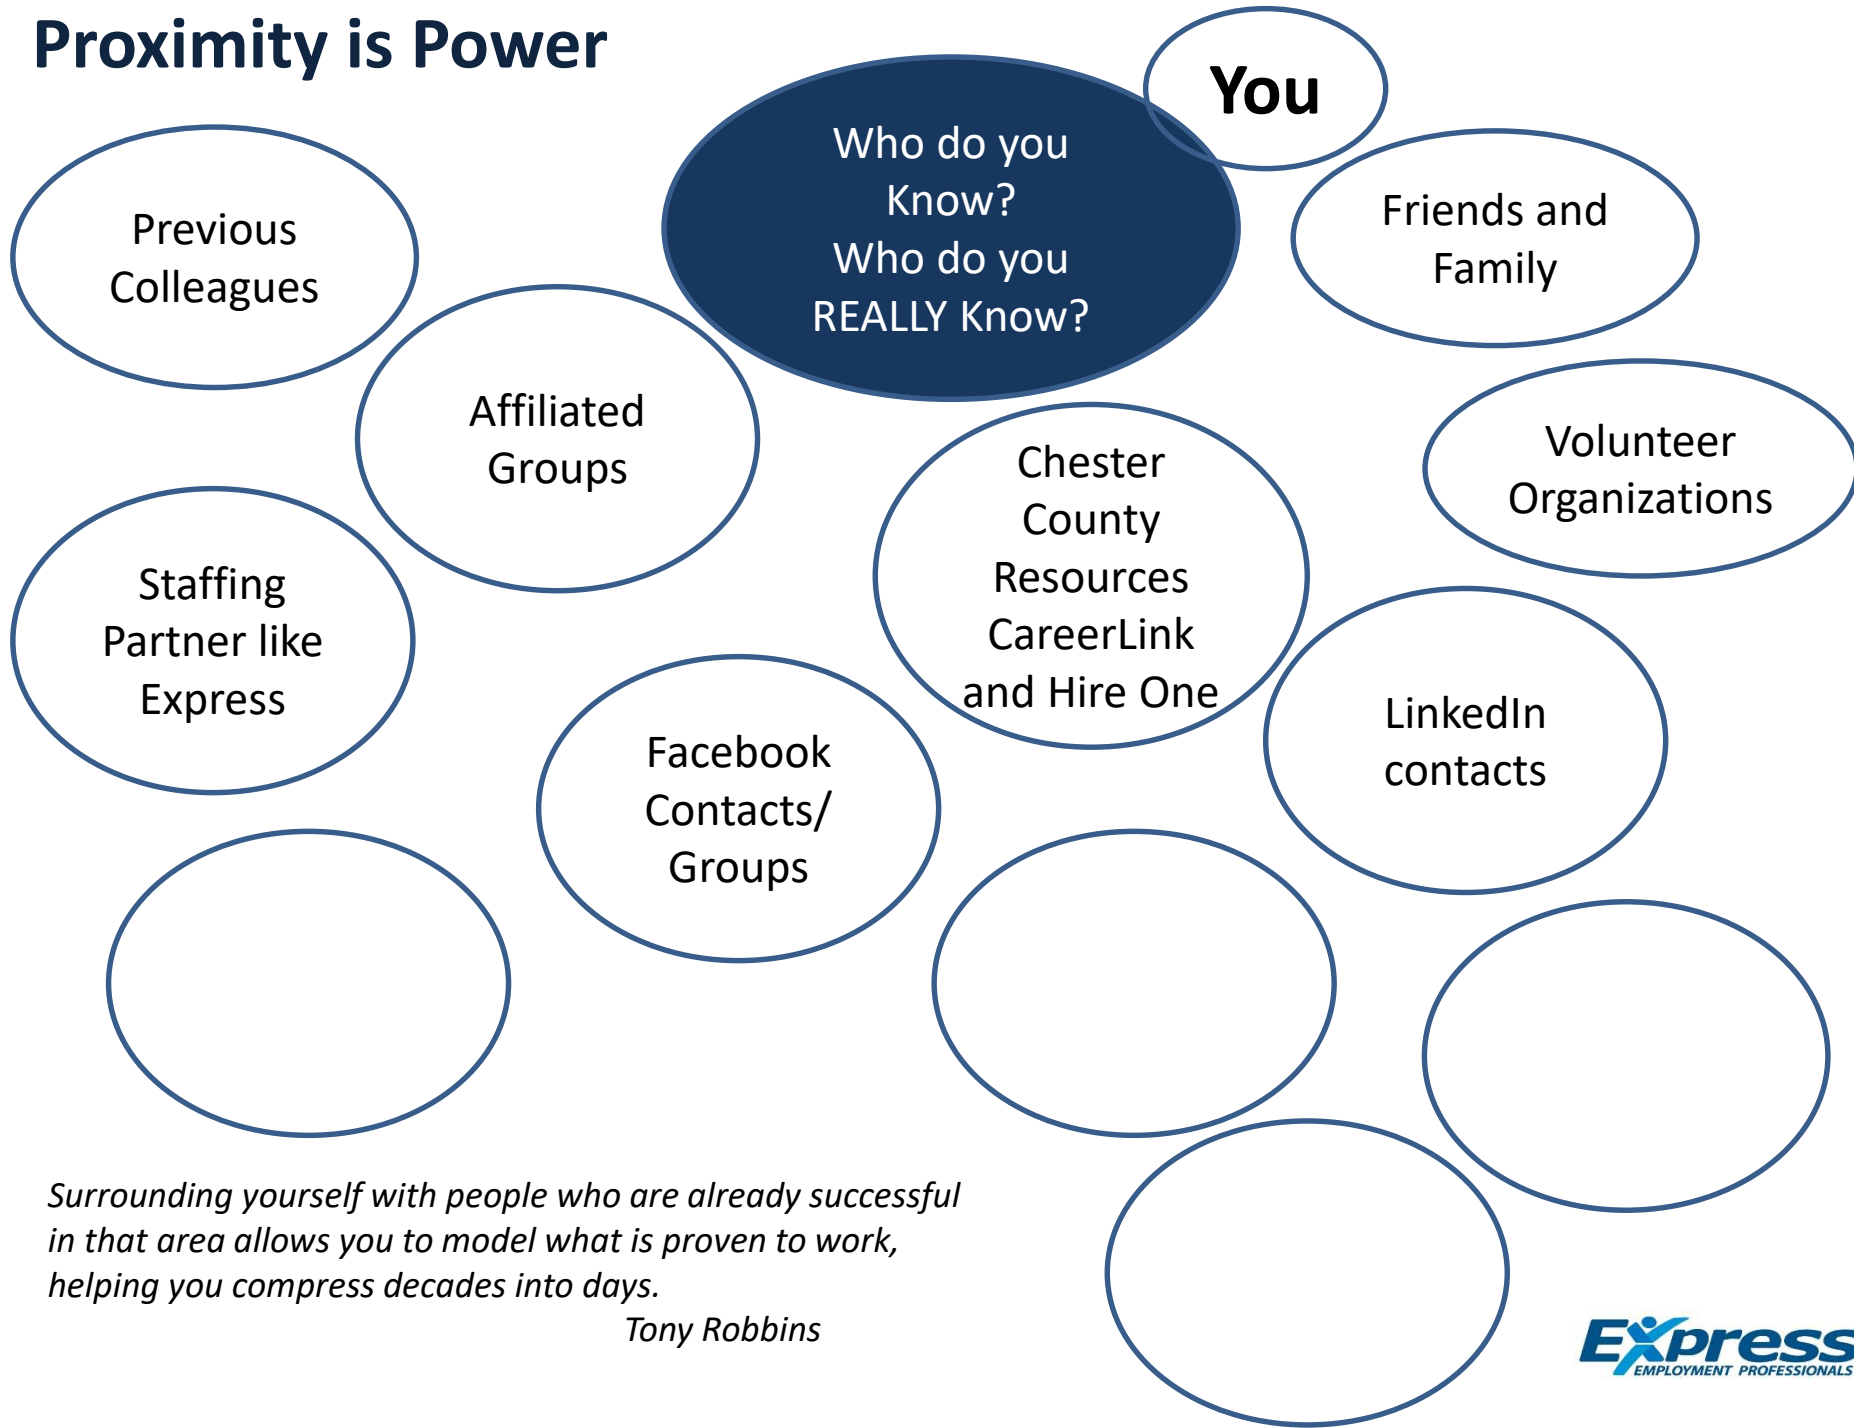

- When you work with a staffing partner, you typically do not pay any fees. Grow your network instantly with decision makers across many industries. Get inside knowledge.

3) Reach out to those in your network

- Create your Proximity Map

Proximity is Power

Surrounding yourself with people who are already successful in that area allows you to model what is proven to work, helping you compress decades into days.

Tony Robbins

Proximity Chart Who Do I REALLY Know?

+ Know them and they know me
++ Know them and have a relationship
- Need to build a relationship

Conversation Starter – Reaching out to have a quick conversation ....

Hi xxxx, this is xxxx. Have I caught you at an OK time for a quick question? I am hoping you can help me.

I am on a search for my next opportunity in xxx (Be clear about what role and/or industry you are seeking) as a xxxx and wanted to learn more about your company and the roles that I might be a good fit to fill. What is the best way for me to get connected to learn more about this? Is there a contact name that you can share with me?

May I send you my resume? I'd appreciate it if you hear of any openings you keep me in mind. Please feel free to pass my resume along to anyone you might know that might be able to connect me.

I very much appreciate your help. Is there anything I can do to help you? (Add a value statement...) I am very active in ....and would be happy to share with you....post for your....

Thank you!
